if that percentage is consistent for other infections caught in hospitals, then infections alone may be killing 400,000 patients annually across all care settings.

After all, penis skin that's dry can't stretch well, and that means erections are uncomfortable.

Pain sensation in our bodies is caused by our cells reacting to damage and responding by synthesizing compounds that alert us of the damage which is our perception of pain.

They don't like it when others say their workers aren't doing right.